Announcements

- Pokemon Legends game uses one model for its entire city.
 - Good thing? What could be beneficial about it?
 - Bad thing? What could go wrong?
 - Internet made its decision quickly (dogpiling on Pokemon is common, likely for good reason).
 - (except not quite– the trailer shows interior areas and many individual objects that don't appear to be represented in this model)
 - (there's probably too much context missing to say if this is a bad idea or not. This could also be the result of a build process that combines a bunch of individual files into a larger model, making things scale better from a content-authoring perspective).
- Congratulations to the students who have completed the Daily Model assignment. You may do more daily models, but it will not affect your grade anymore.
 - related note, shoutouts to everyone who has ~3 skips remaining. It's crunch time– I believe in you!
